Coup De Pates

In the 1950s, Georges Hubert, a skilled baker, conceived the idea of streamlining the supply chain for bakery and pastry professionals, leading to the creation of a company distributing essential ingredients like butter, eggs, and cheese. Passed down to his son, Bernard, in the 1970s, this ensured the company's longevity. Demonstrating innovation and adaptability, Bernard capitalized on technical advancements and societal changes to introduce a line of frozen, semi-finished, and finished products, giving birth to Coup de pates® in 1990.

The rapid integration of Coup de pates into the professional food industry earned it the title 'the artisans' friend,' reflecting the brand's commitment to quality. As a family-owned enterprise marked by its inventive spirit, the company, at fifty years old, joined the Arytza Group in 2004. Recognizing Coup de pates as a valuable asset, Arytza has supported its positioning, enabling its continued growth through the distribution of premium finished and semi-finished products.

Today, Coup de pates is distributed not only in France and Belgium but also in over 13 other global subsidiaries, boasting a workforce of more than 900 employees, including 280 sales representatives and telemarketers in mainland France. Alongside other brands under Arytza France, such as La Carte d'Hubert®, and Le monde des arômes, Coup de pates remains committed to providing excellence in the food industry, catering to professionals in snacking, catering, bakers and beyond.

Boncolac

The history of Boncolac began in 1955 in the heart of the Basque country. The company, at that time, used to manufacture ice cream and a renowned chocolate drink called Boncolac. Later in the 70's, it expanded its manufacturing of products to frozen cakes and pastries.

Since 2011, the company has concentrated its efforts in strengthening its bakery & catering range, recruited a chefs team, opened an innovation center and acquired new tools for product developments, in order to confirm Boncolac leadership in pastry and bakery solutions for professionals and end consumers.

Christine Le Tennier

Founded in 1986, Christine Le Tennier specializes in creative cuisine and the production, transformation, and marketing of high-value edible seaweed and gourmet products. Molecular gastronomy, which emerged in the 1980s under the influence of Hervé This, a French physical chemist with a passion for cooking, has since been embraced by renowned chefs such as Ferran Adrià, Pierre Gagnaire, Thierry Marx, and Marc Veyrat.

This innovative discipline blends science, cuisine, and art to create new sensory experiences by transforming the texture, color, and shape of food. One of the hallmark techniques of molecular cuisine is spherification, which creates a jellified outer shell with a liquid interior.

Driven by a passion for culinary innovation and quality, the GlobeXplore team places consumers at the heart of its strategy. We believe that the pleasure of taste is essential and inseparable from a healthy and balanced diet. After extensive experimentation and testing, we successfully standardized the spherification process in 2008 to meet the growing demand from numerous chefs. Our Perles de Saveurs achieve the perfect balance between alginate (an algae extract) and calcium chloride, allowing us to encase fruit purée, wine, sauce, vinegar, and more in a delicate skin.

In 2024, we expanded our product family with the introduction of Oil Pearls, further enhancing our range of innovative offerings to suit all culinary tastes.

Weiss

The Weiss chocolate Factory was established in 1882 at Saint-Etienne, the land of chocolate. Eugène Weiss, founder, and pioneer discovered the art of pralines and blending from the bean to box and created Le Haut Chocolat®. Recognised as an Entreprise du Patrimoine Vivant, Maison Weiss is committed to using the finest raw materials to produce high quality chocolates and pralines for all gourmet consumers and culinary professionals worldwide. In October 2016, with the desire to share its exceptional traditional expertise, the chocolate Factory opened Les Ateliers Weiss, in Saint-Etienne, a lively and accessible place with entertainment, a shop and a restaurant.

Weiss is committed and have always desired to doing good and creating fine products in the best possible way: carefully select the raw materials and opt for healthy ingredients and local suppliers.

Agrimontana

Agrimontana story is the translation of a journey towards nature and interpretations of pastry chefs and cooks. They are committed to preserving the organoleptic qualities with clean processing, free of dyes preservatives, and any other synthetic additives. Candying was their first preparation method of preservation with sugar and after a few years it was followed by jams and other products, that are delivered in natural and high quality.

Cesare Bardini, founder of Agrimontana says "Only a company that pursues the dream of offering the best of the natural can undertake the enterprise of imprisoning spring and making it available every day of the year."

Pure Harvest

Pure Harvest, are on a mission to create a sustainable future for all by reimagining farming and revolutionizing food production. They believe in harnessing the wonders of science, the power of nature, and the passion of people to provide the tastiest, most affordable, and locally grown produce year-round.

Their secret to achieving food security even in arid climates? Controlled-environment agriculture (CEA), which is seven times more efficient than typical desert greenhouse farms and 30 times more efficient than traditional field farming. With CEA, we grow fresh and flavorful produce all year-round, even during the harshest summer months. But they don't stop at just being efficient, they are also committed to sustainability. That's why 85% of the water we use leaves the farm in your food, thanks to their advanced on-site water treatment process.

When it comes to preserving the freshness, firmness, and flavor of our produce, They take matters into their own hands. They immediately cool their fresh-picked produce to extend its shelf life and ensure that it arrives at your place in perfect condition.

Pure Harvest, is not just growing produce, they are cultivating a sustainable and delicious future for everyone.

Fresh Truffles

Bellorr

Bellorr has dominated the truffle landscape in France for 15 years. A niche known only to a select few, the truffle market in France is essentially shaped by fewer than 20 companies, with Bellorr standing as the Tom Thumb of this exclusive realm.

Founded serendipitously, our journey began 15 years ago when the allure of truffles captivated us upon discovering the first mature truffle plantations in the final French production region. Nestled in the north of this region, Bellorr spans over 500 hectares across multiple departments, collaborating with producers from Tours to Charente, Charente Maritime, Berry, and extending to New Aquitaine.

Our growth mirrors that of our dedicated producers, forming a cooperative bond. As brokers and curators on major markets, we aspire for French truffle farming to reclaim its preeminent status in Europe. Each truffle undergoes meticulous, hand-inspected scrutiny, adhering to legal standards and our stringent specifications. Vacuum-packed individually, our truffles retain peak aroma and freshness, showcasing our commitment to the utmost quality.

At House Bellorr, it's the devotion to precision that sets us apart. Understanding the leaders means understanding their standards. Each truffle, distinct in aroma, shape, and texture, embodies a unique product. It takes a decade to master sorting, emphasizing the necessity of humility in the face of a product no one truly masters.

Foro Maree

Foro Marée is a key fish and seafood wholesaler in France and Europe. Our processing units are spread along the Atlantic coast in La Rochelle, Les Sables d'Olonne and Saint-Pierre-d'Oléron.

Port de Pêche de Chef de Baie is a proper port area dedicated to seafood products and fully equipped to meet the needs and expectations of the sector's professionals. With its deep water basin, it offers permanent access protected by the Charente archipelago islands (Ré, Oléron, Aix and Madame) to the main Gulf of Gascogne fishing areas.

Its ideal location provides small-scale fishing vessels from La Rochelle with a direct entry point to the Pertuis sea. Our processing unit holds IFS (International Food Standard) certification, which attests to our expertise and hygiene standards as well as the expertise of our teams who select, process and prepare products to fill our client's orders on the same day the catch is landed.

Our company is the largest buyer in the southwestern fish markets, stretching from St-Jean-de-Luz to La Turballe, where we buy the best seafood products. And because we are part of the group, we are also able to offer you a particularly wide variety of the best species from other French fish markets: sole, conger eel, megrim sole, monkfish and cephalopods such as cuttlefish and squid.

We provide next-day delivery for most products to our clients in France and abroad. This is made possible by the fact that we have our own logistics and teams able to select, sort, package and ship our products on the day of purchase.

Serrats

In 1890, José Serrats founded an industry in Bermeo to bring the delicious freshness and flavor of Cantabrian sea products to remote places. Using the best raw materials, such as Bonito del Norte and Anchovy, and traditional fishing gear, they implement new conservation techniques from France to quickly introduce their products to European and North American markets. Their canned Bonito del Norte and Anchovy are carefully made using an artisan process perfected over five generations.

Serrats guarantee exceptional quality by selecting the best raw materials, fish, oils, and packaging, and using innovative technologies to improve maintenance, selection, and packaging. A strict quality control system enables them to continue to gain the trust of the most demanding national and international markets.

Vercelli

Gruppo Vercelli, one great passion running through two generations: Italian veal of high quality! The history of the Vercelli Group starts over 50 years ago, when the Vercelli brothers, Pietro and Vittorio began to trade in cattle on the Italian and foreign markets. Today the Group is the market leader for its scale of production and for the level of integration within the national supply chain. While it is still the family who provides the main support through its commitment and experience. Vercelli carries on the family tradition and passion: excellence in the supply of Italian veal, guaranteed from the farm all the way to the table.

The Farming of veal calves – born and reared in Italy – takes place in facilities that are managed by the Vercelli Group, in full compliance with the highest product and processing standards, compulsory and/or voluntary, for animal welfare and meat safety and according to the ISO 9001 standard, adopted by the Group. The animals are born in Italy and are reared on accurately selected feeds, as part of a high-quality food supply chain.

Fette Di Bonta

Italia Alimentari is a leading Italian food company specializing in halal-certified charcuterie that adheres to the highest Islamic traditions. Using cutting-edge technology and over five decades of experience, the company assures that each product is of great quality, flavor, and safety. The company operates from its Postalesio Plant in Valtellina, Italy, where Bresaola and other cattle specialties are professionally prepared, cured, and sliced.

Italia Alimentari, a member of the prestigious Cremonini Group, draws on considerable experience in the cattle meat industry to ensure that each halal product is manufactured with care and precision. Bresaola, Carpaccio, Pastrami, Bacon, Salamis, and Turkey are all gluten- and lactose-free products. Products are vacuum-packed or precisely sliced to meet the needs of wholesalers and foodservice operators.

The “Fette di Bontà” line represents Italian workmanship, providing real cured meats without sacrificing tradition or flavor. With an emphasis on halal-compliant ingredients and procedures, “Fette di Bontà” has achieved international renown through its collaboration with Classic Fine Foods, delivering the real flavor of Italy to the Middle East. These premium items, designed for specific businesses and restaurants, preserve cultural and religious traditions while providing an unrivaled gastronomic experience. Each slice of “Fette di Bontà” tells a tale of tradition, passion, and creativity, making it an excellent choice for customers looking for authentic Italian charcuterie with halal certification.

LDC has been established in 1968 and is the leader for poultry on the French market. The confidence coming from the clients and from their farmers has been essential to build up the group. The people's health at LDC is a priority because they are ensuring the quality of LDC products, the on-going improvement at every step of the chain. Their products are under quality label recognition (Label Rouge, Organic, PDO, etc....)

The success of the LDC company is also based on their capacity to innovate. Indeed, LDC ensures total traceability of its products, allowing customers and consumers to know all stages of production. The Group is committed to the simplification of ingredient lists; elimination of colourings, artificial flavours, flavour enhancers, preservatives, and to sustainable farming practices.

Chicken & Duck

Ernest Soulard

It began in the year 1936 where Ernest settles into a family home and he converted his stables into abattoirs. At dawn, he started going to the fairs and farmers' markets regions to buy ducks, pigeons, chicken, rabbits, and so on. This is how it began and in the year 2009, the company opened a new store to sell directly to its consumers.

From the whole duck to its different cuts they work with ducks in all different forms. Our product range is divided into several categories such as whole duck and duckling, a line of cuts and duck and a range of raw, fresh, and processed foie gras.

Ernest Soulard remains faithful to its founder spirit boosting 100% production. The Soulard family remains attentive to customer expectations and changing consumer habits. For the past 80 years, the passion that has been motivating the staff at Ernest Soulard is a pledge of quality to each customer.

For 80 years now Ernest Soulard has been the duck specialist. For foodservice professionals, they have a multitude of products to offer you.

Bordier Butter

LE BEURRE BORDIER

Jean-Yves Bordier started the butter creamery in 1985, selling butter that is perfectly hand-shaped and served in front of you. The butter is churned by the atelier artisans, kneaded, and salted. He believes that it is vital to meet the precise requirements and preferences of the great chefs with appropriate portions of salt and offering different shapes of tasty, creamy butter.

The process involves a long period of time right from collecting the milk to the packing of the product. Bordier collects the milk produced in organic farms located in Brittany and Normandy, then follows the process of creaming and churning.

After selecting the finest quality of churned butter, it is left to prove for about 24 hours before it is taken for kneading. After kneading follows the addition of salt, shaping and stamping as per certain requirements, and packing. Each Punnet of butter is individually prepared as per orders received, to meet quality standards.

Paysan Breton

Explore the world of Paysan Breton, where our story unfolds through the commitment of male and female farmers and cooperative staff dedicated to daily acts of social responsibility. Since 1969, Paysan Breton has evolved beyond a brand to become a thriving community. Their cooperative, exclusively managed and owned by farmers, proudly introduced the Paysan Breton label, uniting a collective desire to present premium products while preserving regional expertise.

At the core of our offerings is top-quality milk, meticulously sourced from manageable-sized farms. The milking process adheres to stringent hygiene standards, ensuring cleanliness from teats to milking rooms. Collected every 2 to 3 days, our milk undergoes skillful transformation into butter, cheese, fermented milk, or is incorporated into Paysan Breton crêpes before being packaged and delivered to stores. Their commitment to food safety is unwavering, with constant checks and rigorous testing throughout the production process. When you choose Paysan Breton, you choose a brand that promises the highest standards of quality and safety, offering an unparalleled experience for all.

Polenghi

In 1870, brothers Pietro and Paolo Polenghi laid the foundation for Polenghi Lombardo in Codogno, Lombardy. By 1879, the company expanded globally, establishing a branch in London and reaching cities like Los Angeles, Calcutta, and Shanghai. The iconic Lodi factory emerged in 1900, marking a significant chapter in the company's history. In 1904, Polenghi Lombardo pioneered the production of powdered milk in Italy with dietary formulations for early childhood. Throughout the years, the company achieved substantial growth, boasting 19 factories by 1925. The introduction of the Optimus brand in 1930 became a benchmark in the butter sector, while condensed milk production became integral to Polenghi Lombardo in 1935.

In 1954, the company revolutionized the milk industry with long-life milk, introducing brands like "Stella," "Stelat," and "Stemag."

Innovations continued, including the use of stainless steel tankers for milk collection in the 1960s. Notably, "Addilat," a powdered milk for breastfeeding, debuted in 1969, and in 1983, Optimus "Mascherpone" contributed to the company's legacy as a producer of the renowned mascarpone cheese. Expanding its children's line in 1986, Polenghi Lombardo introduced "Primigiorni" and "Transilat." In 2009, the company joined the Newlat SpA group, a key player in the agri-food sector and a global ambassador of "Made in Italy."

In 2021, Polenghi Lombardo underwent a brand relaunch, featuring a graphic restyling and updated logo, reaffirming its commitment to staying cutting-edge and relevant in the ever-evolving market.

Caseificio Artigiana

Caseificio Artigiana is an esteemed artisanal cheese brand nestled in the beautiful Italian countryside. With a legacy of craftsmanship and a deep connection to the land, their skilled artisans have perfected the art of cheese-making over generations.

At the heart of Caseificio Artigiana's philosophy lies a commitment to sustainability and preserving the natural beauty of the environment. They source milk exclusively from local farms, where cows graze freely on lush pastures, ensuring the highest quality and natural goodness in every batch of cheese. This harmonious relationship with nature is reflected in their traditional methods, minimizing waste and maximizing the use of renewable resources.

Caseificio Artigiana takes pride in offering a diverse range of cheeses, each bearing the distinctive character of its origin. Meticulously nurtured and aged to perfection, their cheeses captivate the senses with their complex flavors and textures. With hand-stamped labels and precise aging techniques, Caseificio Artigiana exemplifies the artistry and dedication that goes into crafting each wheel of cheese, celebrating the rich heritage and deep love for the land that defines their brand.

The Marais Vendéen lies between the Loire River and Noirmoutier Island. Its wild grasslands have enchanted many farmers over the years, who subsequently decided to settle there and dedicate themselves to farming and cheese making in the area. This was certainly the case for Pascal Beillevaire, who was born and raised on his parents' dairy farm in the Marais Vendéen. Pascal dreamed of blending two of his dearest passions: trade and agriculture. He began selling cream, butter and some other dairy products in the local markets around Machecoul. Many years of hard work and dedication have transformed the family dairy farm into Beillevaire Dairy – a respectable cheese maker, affineur and distributor.

Vega Mancha

Welcome to Vega Sotuelamos, a cheese brand born from destiny and a deep appreciation for tradition. The story of Vega Sotuelamos begins with two friends in the 1980s who stumbled upon a small artisan cheese factory in Sotuelamos. Little did they know that this coincidence would change their lives forever. Fast forward to 1998, and Quesos Vega Sotuelamos S.L. was established in the same hamlet, in the district of Albacete, with the same passion for cheese-making that inspired its founders.

At Vega Sotuelamos, they pride ourselves on our dedication to traditional techniques, while always striving to improve and evolve. Their cheese is made with the most advanced technology and efficient manufacturing methods, all while maintaining the highest quality standards. We believe that the charm of life lies in connecting the dots, and for us, that means honoring the past while embracing the future. Taste the history and destiny of Vega Sotuelamos in every bite of our artisanal cheese.

Sawani is one of the perfuming dairy companies in Saudi Arabia; their specialty is camel milk products and have well-positioned themselves among the market leaders in the emerging camel dairy business. Working on behalf of the Saudi Public Investment Fund (PIF), Sawani took to the market with the Noug brand to address consumers' demand for fresh and highly-quality camel milk products. This makes Noug's portfolio of camel milk products as diverse as fresh camel milk, flavored camel milk and camel milk with additions, camel milk butter, camel milk cheese, camel milk cream, camel milk gelato, camel milk sweets and others.

Founded in Saudi Arabia, Noug's vision is to return to camel milk traditions and bring to life the Kingdom's magnificent history and the modern agriculture concept. This has a close relationship with another plan known as the Holy KSA Vision 2030 where the government of Saudi Arabia is keen on shifting the status of their economy by reducing on the reliance of oil and increasing support towards other sectors such as the agricultural and the food industry.

Being the pioneer of the healthy, organic and genuinely local consumption, Noug has successfully captured the consumption trend by opening its flagship store in Riyadh and later venturing to other locations such as Jeddah and Makkah. Their products include camel milk which is targets the health conscious people who are willing to pay the price for products that are believed to have special nutritional value different from that of cow's milk.

In addition to this, Noug aims at striving with the promotion across the world camel milk and entering new markets such as the U. S., Japan and others. It is very clear that through intensive marketing and product promotion, tradition, innovation and quality Noug is likely to dominate not only the regional market but the world market as well. In this regard, through integration of the traditional enterprise with today's technological advancement, Noug aims at taking Saudi camel dairy products to greater heights.

Madama Oliva

The history of Madama Oliva began in a Castel which was called Castel Madama a small rural place where some families dried and sold black table olives. With the increase in passion and commitment, it leads to surprising results and it was appreciated and liked by the people.

It was believed that people encouraged it in the year 1989 in Carsoli and within few years it was not only the first Italian export company but also the main supplier of fresh packed olives of the great Italian distribution.

Today Madama Oliva is the Global company that continues to provide the quality and beauty of the distinguished products.

Tomato Paste

Polpa

Our mission as a company is to raise the tomato to its highest expression. This passion has driven us for 120 years. Even today we are still learning new things about this wonderful fruit and constantly improving every aspect of its production to make the best tomato products we possibly can.

Ranise

Pure Harvest, are on a mission to create a sustainable future for all by reimagining farming and revolutionizing food production. They believe in harnessing the wonders of science, the power of nature, and the passion of people to provide the tastiest, most affordable, and locally grown produce year-round.

Their secret to achieving food security even in arid climates? Controlled-environment agriculture (CEA), which is seven times more efficient than typical desert greenhouse farms and 30 times more efficient than traditional field farming. With CEA, we grow fresh and flavorful produce all year-round, even during the harshest summer months. But they don't stop at just being efficient, they are also committed to sustainability. That's why 85% of the water we use leaves the farm in your food, thanks to their advanced on-site water treatment process.

When it comes to preserving the freshness, firmness, and flavor of our produce, They take matters into their own hands. They immediately cool their fresh-picked produce to extend its shelf life and ensure that it arrives at your place in perfect condition.

Pure Harvest, is not just growing produce, they are cultivating a sustainable and delicious future for everyone.

Kalios

Kalios is a franco-greek company created in 2009 by 2 brothers Grégory & Pierre-Julien Chantzios, when they decided to take over their family olive groves. Supplier to some of the finest restaurants (>150 Michelin starred) and leading delicatessens in the world, Kalios produces single variety olive oils and Kalamata olives in the south of the Peloponnese, in Greece.

The great quality of Kalios olive oil lies in its low level of acidity and its balanced fruitiness. This is the result of respectful & traditional family know-how for 8 generations : the olives are harvested by hand from century-old trees, then immediately taken to the mill to extract four great vintages of cold pressed olive oil. Apart from producing, Kalios is also sourcing the best of the Greek terroir from small producers all over the country (Feta, Infused olive oil, Pistachios from Aegina, Salt, dry herbs,...). The company places a strong emphasis on sustainability and ethical practices and is committed to supporting small-scale farmers, hence preserving traditional farming methods

Olive Pomace Oil

Omed

O-Med is not just a company, they are a family with deep roots in the olive oil tradition. They combine their passion for extra virgin olive oil with cutting-edge technology to bring you the ultimate in quality.

Olives are harvested early, when they are rich in aromas and complex flavors. They use innovative techniques to produce unique and delicious oils that will enhance any dish.

To preserve the freshness of oils, they conserve them with nitrogen and use cold extraction methods, never exceeding 20°C (69°F).

And to make production process sustainable, they even use olive stones to produce energy for our mill.

They are committed to reducing environmental impact with use of glass and recyclable packaging, and we take pride in their exclusive and innovative designs.

At O-Med, they believe in vision and hard work, and are dedicated to providing you with the best extra virgin olive oils that nature and technology can offer.

Vigean

For three generations, the Vigean family has upheld the time-honored traditions of Master Oil Makers since 1930. In the face of the proliferation of industrial oil mills in the 1960s, Maison Philippe Vigean stands as a resilient French artisanal oil mill, a testament to their enduring commitment to the art.

The story begins in the early 20th century in the picturesque village of Clion-sur-Indre, nestled in the heart of Berry Champagne. Here, André Vigean embarked on a journey in a small artisanal oil mill, crafting traditional walnut and hazelnut oils. André, a visionary, recognized the importance of both product quality and environmental preservation. He nurtured close relationships with raw material suppliers and customers.

Philippe Vigean, taking over the family business, seamlessly blended artisanal heritage with technological advancement to modernize the oil mill. Embracing ecological principles, he introduced the cold pressing method to produce high-quality oils, all while maintaining trusted partnerships with certified suppliers.

Following in his father's footsteps, Eric Vigean ushered the company into the 21st century, navigating significant challenges such as competitiveness, regulatory compliance, quality assurance, and environmental sustainability. Their approach ensures consumers can consistently rely on top-notch quality, traceability, and an expanded selection of dietary oils that align with their expectations. Through it all, their enduring commitment remains steadfast: delivering quality oils while upholding environmental respect.

Les Assaisonnements Briards

Meaux, located 60 km east of Paris, is the capital of the Seine-et-Marne district, with over 50,000 residents known as Meldois. The city's history is closely tied to the Marne River, on which it was built. In ancient times, the Ourcq Canal and the Marne formed a large loop north of the city, home to the Gallic tribe "Meldis," which gave Meaux its name. By the 4th century, Meaux became a bishopric and later the capital of Brie. The connection between mustard and religion dates back to Charlemagne, who instructed religious communities to cultivate mustard in the bishoprics.

In the 18th century, Meaux became known for its mustard production, with many manufacturers and mills dedicated to this craft. Mustard was essential for masking the taste of less-than-fresh food. By 1771, mustard makers in Meaux were producing on an industrial scale. JB Pommery, a key figure, operated a millstone quarry alongside his mustard business and was entrusted with the secret of Moutarde de Meaux® by the Canons.

In 1925, production modernized, but Moutarde de Meaux® Pommery® has preserved its original recipe, using carefully selected ingredients. The quality of its stoneware jars and natural cork stoppers ensures that this mustard remains a global favorite. Les Assaisonnements Briards, guardians of this authentic process, continue to share their expertise with the world.

Giuseppe Cocco

Experience the authentic taste of Italy with Pasta Cocco, a brand renowned for its exceptional pasta. Using traditional machines passed down through generations, Giuseppe Cocco rebuilt the essential tools after World War II and continued his father's craft to create delicious Italian pasta.

Produced in Fara S. Martino, our durum wheat semolina pasta follows the ancient recipe of Cav. Giuseppe Cocco. We mix pure water from the Verde River Spring with the best semolina, milled from selected durum wheat, to form the dough. It passes through a single-hole bronze die and undergoes low-temperature static drying, ensuring a genuine, additive-free product with exceptional cooking resistance that blends perfectly with sauces.

Benefiting from Fara S. Martino's dry, ventilated air and natural spring, our pasta maintains its distinct flavor and texture. It is intended for connoisseurs who seek the traditional flavor of old-time pasta, best enjoyed with simple, high-quality ingredients.

Giuseppe Pasta Cocco remains one of Italy's few artisanal pasta producers, a testament to quality appreciated by chefs worldwide. Elevate your pasta dishes with Pasta Cocco and savor the true taste of Italy.

Francis Miot

Francis Miot was a renowned French artisanal jam maker who was known for his creative and innovative flavor combinations. He was born in Pau, in the southwest of France, in 1948, and began making jam at a young age using fruit from his family's orchard.

In 1985, Miot opened his own jam-making workshop, which quickly gained a reputation for producing some of the finest jams in France. Miot's jams were made using only the freshest, highest quality fruit, and were cooked in small batches to preserve their flavor and texture.

Miot was known for his inventive flavor combinations, which included exotic fruits, spices, and even flowers. Some of his most popular flavors included apricot with lavender, raspberry with Szechuan pepper, and fig with ginger.

Miot's jams were highly acclaimed, and he won numerous awards and accolades throughout his career, including the prestigious Meilleur Ouvrier de France (Best Craftsman of France) award in 2000. Miot passed away in 2018, but his legacy lives on through his delicious and innovative jams, which are still produced by his workshop in Pau.

TOSCHI
Gustosa, la vita

Toschi

Toschi, founded in 1945 by Giancarlo and Lanfranco Toschi, began by preserving Vignola cherries in alcohol. Today, Toschi offers an extensive range of products, from fruits in alcohol and liqueurs to syrups, semiprocessed products for pastry makers, and Aceto Balsamico di Modena IGP. Toschi's focus is to offer quality products that respect tradition and the environment. The company is UNI-EN-ISO 9001:2000 and IFS certified, and is now led by Giorgio Montorsi and Massimo Toschi in Savignano sul Panaro.

Spirits of Virtue

Five years ago, founders Roddy and Kerr Nicoll observed a growing demand for beverages that offered a healthier, lighter, and greener alternative to traditional options, without compromising on deliciousness. Recognizing this shift towards irresistible flavors, botanical ingredients, and authentic experiences over fleeting alcoholic pleasures, they embarked on a journey that led to the creation of Spirits of Virtue.

Originating from modest beginnings in the rural heart of Scotland, Spirits of Virtue emerged with a clear mission – to elevate the non-alcoholic drinks market by delivering uncompromising quality through a comprehensive range of super-premium, handcrafted beverages. Since those humble backyard days, significant transformations have taken place. Fueled by the increasing desire for such beverages, our business has flourished, expanding its presence to the global stage and offering seven distinctive brands worldwide. From Glen Dochus to Sobour, Usko to 270° West, each brand represents a non-alcoholic alternative meticulously crafted using our exclusive pure water. Sourced from an ancient spring in the heart of Royal Deeside, nestled in the Cairngorm Mountains, this water is a key ingredient, setting these beverages apart.

Despite these changes, our core values remain unwavering. Spirits of Virtue is not about deprivation or moralizing; it's about sharing joyous moments and savoring full-flavored experiences without the aftermath of the morning regret. So, indulge in a hangover-free experience with Spirits of Virtue and raise your glass to a flavorful and mindful way of enjoying beverages.
